Texas Twister Kills 23, Injures Hundreds

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — A tornado so powerful it ripped great chunks of concrete from buildings has turned this city of 170,000 into a disaster area, with death estimates today ranging from 19 to 23.

State authorities counted 19 bodies, while newspaper and radio surveys reached a total of 23. Texas Safety Department officers said some dead may still be under debris.

Authorities said 300 or more suffered injuries in the Monday night disaster. Property damage was unofficially calculated in the millions .

"There is no doubt in anybody's mind around here," said a veteran newsman, "that it is one of the biggest and most prolonged tornadoes ever to strike Texas."

All persons except rescue workers were kept out of the downtown area. The National Guard called out 300 men, including a medical unit. The state safety department sent 45 units. The Red Cross dispatched six disaster teams with 10 mobile vans.

Cars lay flattened to within two or three feet of the pavement. A bus was slammed broadside into a building. The ground floor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal was awash from a cloudburst which came with the twister.

The width of the destruction was the greatest from any tornado observers could remember.

The storm left a path of destruction eight miles long.

It was hours after the tornado struck—just before 10 p.m. Monday—before state and city police could find time to begin searching the wreckage.

A state police spokesman said it seemed likely "many more bodies" would be found.

Damage centered in the downtown area, where virtually all store fronts were blown out and a policeman said, "Looting started before the wind died down." Police patroled the streets to curb further thefts.

A. W. Voight, executive director of the American Red Cross in Lubbock, said, "Official reports are virtually nonexistent.

"We have no estimate of the number of homes or buildings destroyed because our efforts have been aimed at rescue and relief work.

"We have one shelter open and we have people going into our municipal coliseum."

The twister tore concrete chunks off skyscrapers and whipped broken glass through the streets, causing many injuries.

Electrical power went out. Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. rushed 300 men into the area to restore service on 35,000 telephones.

Mayor James Granberry described the damage as "massive, just massive."

Hospitals were quickly jammed with the injured and two of the city's largest had to turn patients away after filling corridors with beds and cots for those who arrived earlier.

Near 19,000-student Texas Technological College two apartment buildings were shattered. Injured, many bleeding from facial wounds, lined the streets waiting for help. A big brick wall at the college blew down, demolishing a number of parked cars.

Damage was heavy and injuries numerous in the Mexican-American section of the city, where buildings generally were of flimsy construction.

"We are trying to set up some sort of evacuation system for the injured," Granberry said. "I guess we'll try to get them into the Midland-Odessa area to the south and Amarillo to the north."

Gov. Preston Smith sent units of the National Guard to assist police. The state police dispatched 45 patrol units.

Jay Harris, managing editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, said a second story wall of a major addition just completed at the Avalanche-Journal building was blown away—"destroyed in seconds."

"I heard it coming," Harris

Georgia Flareup Leaves 6 Dead

Beating Death In Augusta Sparks Riot

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — An outbreak of racial violence triggered by the beating to death of a teen-age Negro jail inmate has left six persons dead, more than 60 injured and widespread property damage in this east Georgia city.

Firemen, escorted by National Guardsmen and state troopers ordered into the city by Gov. Lester Maddox, gradually brought under control more than 50 fires set Monday night by roving bands of Negroes.

Authorities said the situation was calming early today and that sporadic sniper fire was dying out.

As dawn broke a thin pall of smoke from the dying fires hung over the city.

City officials and Negro leaders called a meeting this morning to try to calm the situation further.

Some 300 more National Guardsmen were airlifted into Augusta from Savannah early today in an effort to prevent further trouble.

Maddox, at the request of Mayor Millard Beckum, ordered more than 200 guardsmen and 140 state troopers into the city after the violence broke out Monday afternoon. Beckum also ordered a citywide curfew into effect from midnight until 8 a.m.

The troopers and guardsmen sealed off a mainly Negro area covering about 130 square blocks on the fringe of the downtown business section. They set up barricades on major thoroughfares into the area and stopped autos to search for firearms, arresting anyone who possessed a weapon.

Authorities declined to speculate on whether the six persons killed, all Negro males, were hit by police or sniper fire.

The two hospitals in the city, Talmadge Memorial and University, said they had treated more than 63 persons for various wounds, including gunshots, cuts and bruises.

Officers said the number of

Nixon Sets Cambodian Deadline

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is now so firmly committed to a June 30 deadline for withdrawing American forces from Cambodia officials doubt he could prolong the operation even if he found it militarily advisable to do so.

Despite this commitment, Nixon may yet be faced with pressure from field commanders for more time to complete the destruction of North Vietnam's Cambodian bases.

Some already are reported to believe they cannot do the whole job within the two months Nixon has specified.

The June 30 deadline applies to all support units and advisers attached to the South Vietnamese as well as to strictly American outfits engaged in the Cambodian operation, Nixon said at his news conference.

He stated the deadline without qualification as to any unforeseen development, officials say, because he wanted to stress that destruction of the sanctuaries is not a first step toward an indefinite U.S. troop involvement in Cambodia.

What worries some authorities here, however, is the possibility that North Vietnam may yet undertake some kind of counter action such as a political-military offensive against the present Cambodian government or a counterattack on allied forces.

This would confront Nixon and his military chiefs with a new situation—for which he already has closed his apparent options.

But officials also say the storm of opposition stirred up by his decision to send troops into Cambodia in the first place made it impossible for him to speak ambiguously about the limit of the assault.

Less potential controversy is seen here over the 21.7 mile limitations Nixon has placed on penetration of Cambodian territory by U.S. forces.

Officials say that distance from the South Vietnamese border was picked because intelligence reports showed no important enemy bases beyond that line.

But one significant target is now said to be beyond the 21.7-mile limit, according to reports reaching Washington—the mobile command headquarters for the enemy military forces in South Vietnam.

Young Wants Court Martial Of Lieutenant

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the wave of an arm, an Ohio National Guard lieutenant gave the order to fire that resulted in the deaths of four Kent State University students last week, Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, said Monday.

Young declined to identify the lieutenant, but said he should be charged with second degree murder.

"The lieutenant in charge of that platoon held his arm aloft and pulled it down and immediately a volley was fired from the guardsmen," Young told the Senate.

"The officer who ordered the guardsmen to fire point blank into the students was guilty of murder in the second degree," he added.

Young said he received his information during interviews with Kent State students. He added that he was sending an affidavit from one witness to the U.S. attorney.

Young made his statement as Life magazine published a copyrighted photograph showing one guardsman, apparently an officer, aiming a pistol toward a group of students.

An Ohio National Guard official in Columbus said there was no indication that any .45 caliber pistols were fired during the incident. The spokesman added that only officers carried .45 caliber pistols at Kent State.

Two Associated Press reporters examining the scene of the shooting shortly after the incident reported finding a spent bullet that appeared to be larger than the .30 caliber slugs fired from M1 rifles.

Its exact diameter could not immediately be determined, partly because the bullet had mushroomed on impact. The slug was turned over to a guard officer who pocketed it without comment.

Biggest Gambling Raid Ever Staged By FBI Forces

DETROIT (AP) — In a five-hour sweep more than 200 FBI agents have carried out what Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell called the biggest gambling raid by federal agents in the nation's history.

Agents raided 58 locations in Detroit and its suburbs and in Flint Monday and arrested 58 persons. Nine others were being sought. Federal officials said the raid broke up a numbers ring which had been grossing $250,000 daily.

All those arrested were released on $1,000 bond on charges of conspiracy to violate provisions of the interstate transportation in aid of racketeering law.

The charge carries a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

An FBI spokesman said that in addition to making the arrests, agents seized cash, numbers slips, tally sheets, files, adding machines and firearms.

Few details of the raid were immediately released. U.S. Atty. James Brickley brushed aside newsmen's questions, saying no information would be forthcoming until a news conference today.

The raid marked the culmination of the third federal gambling probe in the Detroit area in recent months.

The first investigation involved what federal authorities termed a national sports betting ring. After a series of raids which began New Year's Day, 10 persons were charged with conspiracy to violate federal gambling laws and six others were named as co-conspirators.

A second investigation involved alleged bookmaking activities in Flint.

There have been no arrests resulting from that probe.

An FBI spokesman said Monday's raids came as the climax of an investigation in progress since early March.

In announcing the arrests in Washington, Mitchell said, "Through operations such as this, this administration is convinced we can dry up the biggest source of funds for organized crime in this country."

Roundtown

CIRCLEVILE Jaycees' Project Involvement is getting considerable attention on the Roundtown scene ... Main objective of the project will be presentation of petitions to the governor on May 25th ... The petitions request that all state colleges be opened and maintained; asks for the arrest and prosecution of all rioters; expell all students that are participating in violent demonstrations and trying to intimidate other students from attending classes; continue the use of the National Guard with live ammunition when the situation warrants; notify the Draft Boards of all expelled students immediately; and to dismiss all faculty members participating in violent demonstrations ... Hundreds of residents have already signed the petitions that are available in many downtown stores and businesses as well as from Jaycee members ... The Jaycees are to be commended for their efforts and concern over a situation that could have been avoided ... Subscribers comments and suggestions are invited and encouraged through "letters to the editor" concerning the student riots, closing of universities, etc ...

Couple Is Held In Slaying Case

FRANKLIN, Ohio (AP) — A Detroit, Mich., couple, both age 22, were questioned today in the fatal shooting of John Patton, an attendant at the Patton Texaco Service Monday night at the interchange of Int. 75 and Ohio 123.

Franklin police said the shooting did not involve a robbery attempt but declined to elaborate.

The couple were arrested 30 miles south in Hamilton County by Evendale Police following a two car accident near Cincinnati on Int. 75. There were no injuries.

Jaycees Plan Concerned Citizen Meet

Circleville Jaycees have decided that it is time for the silent majority to speak out and be heard on the issues.

"We are gravely concerned that a few radical students have through the use of violent demonstration, been able to force the closing of many universities and colleges across the country," said Ernie Lindsey, Jaycee president.

"We, the Jaycees, are planning to hold a public meeting 8:45 p.m. Wednesday at the American Legion Post for all concerned citizens."

The meeting will be held to allow people to express their views and to support publicly for our form of government and "the things that have made the United States a great place to live," Lindsey stated.

OSU Riot Costs Mount

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Student rioting at Ohio State University cost the city and state more than $500,000, and the total still is climbing.

Salaries and other costs of calling up 1,100 National Guardsmen for seven days of duty will amount to nearly $200,000, according to Lt. Col. J. E. P. McCann, administrative assistant to the Ohio adjutant general.

Columbus Finance Director Joseph C. Houston said overtime pay for city policemen, damage repairs and other incidentals will cost the city about $250,000.

The Ohio Highway Patrol says overtime pay and repairs to equipment totaled $140,000.

University officials have not yet announced damage estimates to physical propery on the campus.

Senate Panel Votes To Curb Funds For War In Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, reacting swiftly to last week's widespread antiwar sentiment, has approved legislation to block funds for all American military action in Cambodia.

The bill also would prohibit the Pentagon from authorizing military construction for Cambodia or conducting any air combat activity in support of Cambodian ground troops.

"The way out of Vietnam does not lead through Cambodia," said Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine. "The time has come to substitute new policies for old policies in Southeast Asia."

The amendment, sponsored by Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., also bars the use in Cambodia of South Vietnamese troops that are supported by U.S. funds.

The committee approved the measure 9 to 4 Monday as Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., said he had received pledges of support from 31 senators for an amendment to cut off all funds for U.S. operations in Southeast Asia except for what is needed to bring home the troops.

And President Nixon repeated his pledge to 43 of the nation's governors that U.S. troops would be withdrawn from Cambodia by June 30.

As Nixon met with the state executives in the White House, hundreds of college students descended on Capitol Hill to lobby congressmen.

The Foreign Relations Committee also approved an amendment to repeal the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution used by former President Lyndon B. Johnson as the legal basis for sending a massive troop increase to Vietnam.

Chairman William J. Fulbright, D-Ark., said the vote on the latter was unanimous.

In addition, the committee passed a resolution placing a $35 million ceiling on the amount of equipment the Defense Department can give annually to a foreign government.

Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the White House would not have any comment on Church's amendment barring U.S. military activity in Cambodia.

California Wants U.S. Battleship

MARTINEZ, Calif. (AP) — This San Francisco Bay area port city, population 14,000, wants to have the battleship Missouri brought here and established as a national monument.

Resolutions were introduced in both houses of the California Legislature Monday at Sacramento calling on the Navy to turn over the 45,000-ton ship, scene of the 1945 signing of the World War II peace treaty with Japan.

Now in mothballs at Bremerton, Wash., "Mighty Mo" was flagship of the Pacific Fleet before being retired in 1955.

Funds Approved In 5 School Districts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Board of Education approved Monday $2.1 million in construction funds to expand facilities at high schools in three cities and in two joint vocational school districts.

Canton will receive $231,398, Cleveland's Rhodes High School, $702,500, and Dayton, $393,398.

Joint Vocational schools in Montgomery County and Wayne County will get $720,000 and $80,-021 respectively.

8 Red Premiers Open Economic Summit Meeting

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Premiers of eight communist nations including Alexei N. Kosygin of the Soviet Union, began their economic summit meeting today.

They were holding the 24th session of the Council of Mutual Ecnomoic Assistance—Comecon—the east bloc's equivalent to the European Common market.

Key issues will be the subject of economic integration within the bartering bloc and talks on establishing a convertible currency — something which Comecon has been trying to achieve for several years.

Countries participating are the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania, East Germany, Bulgaria and Mongolia. Yugoslavia, not a member, sent observers.

Hearing Set For Convicted County Slayer

Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer Friday ordered the release of Daniel Ealey from Ohio Penitentiary for a hearing May 19 in the Pickaway County court.

Ealey, of Williamsport, was sentenced to the state penitentiary Dec. 20, 1965 after being found guilty of the murder of Gail Lewis, 40, and Emmanuel Baldwin, 55, both of Williamsport, on December 20, 1964.

A three-judge court of Judge Ammer, C. W. Smith, Vinton County and Merlin C. Parent, Fairfield County deliberated an hour following testimony before imposing sentence of two life terms in the pen. The life sentences were to run consecutively.

The order of release resulted from a petition presented by Richard L. Gearhart whom Ealey has retained as a new defense attorney.

According to the petition, Emory F. Smith of Portsmouth, Ealey's defense counsel during the trial, has been declared incompetent as a representative of the accused.

Power Company Strike Settled

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A two-week strike against the Ohio Power Co.'s. four-county Cumberland Mine ended today as miners returned to work.

The dispute that triggered the walkout remains to be settled, according to Robert Rummer, president of United Mine Workers Local 1604.

The 370-man local walked off the job when an outside operator, whose men belonged to another local, was allowed to mine a portion of the Cumberland area.

Alto Saxophonist Johnny Hodges Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Hodges, the alto saxophonist who was a mainstay with the Duke Ellington band for nearly 40 years, died Monday after he collapsed in a dentist's office. He was 63.

Hodges was ranked as one of the great early soloists in jazz. With his slow meolodic tone, he shaped his passages in a style that was immediately recognizable by thousands of Ellington fans.

OU Hit By Firebomb, Sit-In; Others Remain Closed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

About 100 students staged an all night sit-in at the old Chubb Library at Ohio University in Athens and a firebombing at another campus building early today caused extensive damage.

The demonstrators remained in Chubb Hall overnight, but left early today at the request of school officials.

The firebombing occurred in a new section of the Nelson Hall cafeteria that was being used as a storage area. Damage to supplies and the building was not estimted immediately but one official said it would be several thousand dollars.

The youths marched on the building, which is in the process of being renovated, after hearing a speech by John Froines, one of the Chicago Seven defendants.

They broke a window in a door to gain entrance. Otherwise, there was no destruction or violence. Students even cleaned up the broken glass.

The group, including several faculty members, was only a small part of the crowd which heard Froines discuss the free university concept in which students hold classes and workshops on various relevant or current issues, such as the war in southeast Asia, pollution of the environment and civil rights.

Meanwhile, Kent State, Ohio State and Miami universities, the University of Cincinnati and Ashland College remained closed.

Kent State President Robert White told students by letter that the school would reopen for the summer quarter June 22. Kent State shut down May 4 after four students were killed and nine wounded in a violent confrontation with National Guard troops.

At Ohio State, leaders of student groups formed the Majority Alliance Monday night and began a campaign to get the huge campus reopened.

They approved a statement of purpose and a number of objectives which they planned to present to the faculty council today.

Miami University President Phillip Shriver told the Student Senate Monday the target date for reopening the Oxford campus now is May 18. But that date could be changed, he said, depending on his appraisal of conditions as to the safety of students and the security of the campus.

There was no indication when Cincinnati and Ashland might reopen. They were closed because of the intrusion of outsiders on campus who officials felt posed a threat to the safety of the college communities.

Kenyon College President William G. Caples is trying to obtain for presentation to Gov. James A. Rhodes a cross-section of student sentiment on violence and the campus crisis through a student - initiated multi-university program.

A college spokesman said students at 15 Ohio colleges already have made their views known to their respective college presidents, who have in turn notified Caples.

Drunken Driving Cases In Court

Four persons appeared in Monday's session of Municipal Court cited by local law officials for driving while intoxicated.

Louis Mosley, 59, Columbus, was arrested on Route 23 by Highway Patrolman Ronald Lewis along with a passenger in his auto, Earl W. Brown, 43, also of Columbus, for intoxication. Brown forfeited $24 and Mosley was fined $150, sentenced to three days in jail and had his license suspended for six months for OMVI.

William Wood, 53, Columbus and James Snodgrass, 40, Columbus, each paid $150 fines, and were sentenced to three days in jail. Both also lost their driving privileges for six months.

Cited by deputies for drunken driving was Victor Lewis Coyle, 60, an Ashville resident. He was also fined $150 by Judge Sterling Lamb and sentenced to three days in jail and had his driving privileges restricted for six months. Arrested with him was Patrick Dewey, 48, and Ina Sue Endrizzi, 29. Both were fined $10 for public intoxication.

Others charged over the weekend for drunkeness were Robert Lee McManus, 239 Pearl St., fined $10; Lawrence Taylor, 148 W. High St., fined $20; Russell E. Murch, Massieville, $24, forfeited.

Charged with failure to keep assured clear distance ahead was David Robert Story, 31, Ashville. He was involved in a minor auto collision Monday. Story received a $15 fine.

An improper turn cost Leroy M. Fout, 23, of E. Mound St., $24 bond which he forfeited when he failed to appear in court. Fout was also cited for OMVI at the time of the incident and has filed for a jury trial on that charge.

Dennis Woods, 18, of 225 Watt St., forfeited $24 for making unnecessary noise with his auto. Cited on speeding charges were Wilmer Davis, 23, Ashville, forfeiting $34 for failure to yield the right of way causing a minor collision was Carolyn Jo Hancher, 20, Route 4. Also involved in an accident caused by driving left of center was Herbert Speakman, 51, Chillicothe. He was fined $15.

Beating Death

arrests could easily go into the hundreds. "We've got 'em stacked up all over the place," a jailer said.

The violence broke out after a peaceful march through the downtown section ended at the Augusta municipal building and a small group ripped down a Georgia flag there and burned it.

Sheriff's officers said the 16-year-old prisoner, Charles Oatman, was beaten to death by other prisoners. They said two of the cellmates had been charged with murder.

Sheriff E. R. Atkins said the two, Sammy Lee Parks, 17, and a 16-year-old whose name was withheld in accordance with Georgia law, beat Oatman with a belt and a shoe and knocked him against a wall Sunday.

Negro militants, however, claimed there were reports that Oatman had been beaten by officers.

Press Eyes Government Relations

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Relations between the Nixon administration and the press "are cordial enough" but there is a "calculated neglect of the White House press conference," the American Society of Newspaper Editors was told today.

Robert J. Donovan, Washington bureau chief for the Los Angeles Times, made the report for the ASNE's Freedom of Information Committee, at the society's annual meeting. He said that relationships between Nixon and news media are not the best.

"In Washington," he said, "personal relations between the press and the Nixon administration are cordial enough for the most part, although on one occasion a White House official came close to browbeating a reporter publicly on coverage of the (Judge Clement) Haynsworth case.

"Nevertheless, President Nixon's calculated neglect of the White House press conference, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's attacks on newspapers and television networks, and the affair of the subpoenas have made the last year and a half a time of retrogression in relations between the press and the government."

The subpoenas referred to efforts by U.S. attorneys in Chicago and San Francisco to obtain reporters' files, notes and records. News media immediately objected.

Nixon Lays Fight Plan On Dissent

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is considering a campaign-style telecast to put the White House in closer communication with dissenting American youth.

And Vice President Spiro T. Agnew was quoted as saying he would like to explain, discuss and debate administration policy on college campuses, but feels there is no chance now for him to be heard.

These developments came up at the White House Monday as the governors of 43 states discussed with Nixon the problems of dissent and communication across the generation gap.

Agnew was said by a Democratic governor, Kenneth Curtis of Maine, to have remarked that "the rascals and the radicals" must be cleared off campuses if the government is to re-establish communications with students.

White House spokesmen said Agnew had told the governors he would like to appear on campuses himself, but faces the prospect of being shouted down by militants and not heard.

The governors spent nearly four hours with Nixon. Agnew and other top administration officials and got a briefing on U.S. operations in Cambodia.

"The President said we're not seeking to commit any of you to support of this decision," said Gov. John A. Love of Colorado, the Republican who heads the National Governors Conference. But he said Nixon told the governors he was confident "it was the right decision, that it will soon be over . . . ."

Colleges Open, But Students Still Restless

General Worker Strike Efforts Mostly Failure

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A student strike against the Indochina war continues to have widespread impact despite the official reopening of many colleges. However, student efforts to build a general workers strike have had little effect.

A survey showed 129 colleges and universities in 43 states and the District of Columbia officially reopened Monday, some with classes virtually empty due to continuing boycotts.

Meanwhile, strikes of indefinite duration were still in effect at 192 educational institutions, according to a partially complete survey by the student strike information center at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass.

Although most of the nation's 1,500 campuses were calm. Gov. Robert McNair declared a state of emergency at the University of South Carolina in Columbia after rampaging students ransacked the first floor of the administration building and clashed with state troopers and National Guardsmen.

The troopers and guardsmen used nightsticks and tear gas to clear the campus of a rock-throwing crowd of 1,000 to 3,000 students who were protesting the arrest of 41 persons last Thursday during a campus demonstration against the war.

In Denver, about 1,000 National Guardsmen were placed on alert as authorities prepared a second attempt to dismantle "Woodstock Nation," a commune on the University of Denver campus which the university chancellor, Maurice Mitchell, described as a "doggy bag, didy-wash, squatters' camp."

Police battled some 1,000 young people and arrested 30 Monday when they moved in to dismantle the commune. However, the shantytown of tents and shacks was rebuilt larger than before after police withdrew.

The response to student calls for a general workers strike has been small and scattered.

Some student custodial employes at the University of New Mexico struck for an end to the war and higher wages. In all, 66 of about 98 custodians at the university struck for higher wages. Only the student employes mentioned peace among their demands.

At the University of California at Los Angeles 8,500 of the 25,000 students attended an anti-war rally and some pledged to join the local picket lines of striking truck drivers today.

for South Vietnam, or COSVN, this command unit is said by Washington authorities to consist of a fleet of radio communication trucks and jeeps, and command and staff transport rather than a fixed installation with buildings and bunkers.

When President Nixon announced April 30 that U.S. and South Vietnam forces were going after the sanctuaries, he said they "will attack the headquarters for the entire Communist military operation in South Vietnam"—wording suggesting a strongly held strategic center of critical importance.

Now, however, informants report that COSVN with its high level offices and communications equipment fled before the advancing allies. Furthermore, according to the best information available here its transmitters have not been heard by U.S. monitoring stations since May 1.

One assumption is the enemy command went into radio silence to prevent the allies from getting a position fix.

Campus Church Sets Program

Rev. George Blackstone will be guest speaker for the 7:30 p.m. Wednesday prayer service at the Campus Church of Christ in Christian Union.

Mr. Blackstone, presently serving as academic dean at Circleville Bible College, recently returned from a tour of the Middle East and will show slides taken on his trip.

Rev. David Van Hoose extends an invitation to the public to attend the service.

Israelis Invade Lebanon; Syrians Join In Defense

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli armor and warplanes lunged into southern Lebanon to attack Arab guerrilla bases today and Syria and Iraq announced they had joined the battle to help the Lebanese.

An Israeli spokesman said three Syrian jets were shot down. In Beirut, a Lebanese spokesman said one Israeli warplane was brought down by groundfire.

The Israeli command in Tel Aviv described the Israeli attack as the biggest on Lebanese soil in the Arab-Israeli confrontation.

At the time the three Syrian planes were encountered, the Israeli incursion had been under way for eight hours.

A Lebanese communique issued in Beirut said an Israeli Phantom jet was brought down near Rashaya and had fallen inside Lebanon. It said the two-man crew parachuted and a hunt was under way for them.

The Palestine Liberation Organization reported in Beirut that Arab guerrillas had blown up bridges in the battle area to hinder the advance of the Israeli armor.

A spokesman said Israeli troops and guerrillas were blazing away at each other from positions at some points no more than 50 yards apart.

A Lebanese military communique reported its armor had foiled an Israeli attempt to break out of Khraibe and advance northward toward Hasbaya, the main town of the region, and in counterattack had knocked out two Israeli tanks.

Israeli casualties were being evacuated by helicopter, said the communique.

The Syrian-Lebanese border is just east of the battle zone.

Syria is a strong supporter of Arab guerrillas and military men in Tel Aviv say members at the El Saiqa sabotage organization, a Damascus-backed group, are among the irregulars encamped in east Lebanon, a target of Israeli attacks.

Members Of Families Join Mentally Ill In Experiment

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A new experiment in treating the mentally ill puts members of their families into the hospital with them.

And this seems to produce good results, two psychiatrists told the American Pnychiatric Association.

Often the person who is put in the hospital is simply "carrying the symptoms of a disturbed family," and treatment needs to be aimed at the family, they explained.

Drs. Gene M. Abroms and Carl H. Fellner of the University of Wisconsin told Monday of treating 100 patients, with whom 126 members of the families also were admitted to the hospital. The 126 included husbands, wives, parents, brothers and sisters of patients.

Diagnoses were made of the family members as well as the patients. Among the 126, half were considered to have personality disorders.

Thirty per cent of the patients had problems apparently related to marital or family disharmony. Others suffered from neuroses, schizophrenia or other ailments.

For about half of the 100 original patients, improvement of symptoms occurred within 24 hours of the family's admission, the psychiatrists said.

"The sheer force of the family's expressed concern, as well as their willingness concretely to shoulder responsibility for the disturbance and the treatment, seem crucial here," Abroms and Fellner said.

The 100 patients were hospitalized an average of 17 days, and the family members for about 10 days.

Helpful treatment really begins, the doctors said, when the patient and his family accept the idea that "the problem lies between all of them. not just within the 'patient.' Therapy proceeds when the family can sit down together and work out their faulty methods of relating."

It does no good to tell a family that the trouble "is really with all of them, but then let all but one of them go home," the doctors reported.

Resurfacing Program OK'd

The Pickaway County Commissioners Monday accepted the road resurfacing program submitted by County Engineer Henry McCrady for approximately 23 miles of roads.

Bids for the program will be accepted until noon June 1 and will be opened at 1:30 p. m. the same day.

The roads to be resurfaced are: Harrisburg - Fairfield Road, Harrisburg Road, New Holland-Clarksburg Road, Mt. Sterling - Commercial Point Road, Harrisburg-Darbyville Road, McKinley Road, Federal Road, Circleville - Lockbourne Road.

In other action bids for two new cruisers for the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department were opened.

Harden Chevrolet submitted the apparent low bid of $3,218.17 accepting a 1969 Chevrolet cruiser in trade. Rod Bell Ford submitted a bid of $3,347.70 for the same trade.

Bell also submitted a bid of $3,347.70 accepting a 1969 Ford in trade for the other new cruiser, while Harden Chevrolet submitted a $3,369.17 bid.

Commissioners Dick T. Tootle, Wayne Hines and Charles Morris also approved a speed limit of 35 miles per hour on Renick Road through the village of Derby.

Bill Blass Fashions Are Unveiled

NEW YORK (AP) — The fall collection by Bill Blass for Maurice Rentner has a rich, lush look—sable hats, beautifully tailored wools, gold boots, evening velvets and extravagant jewelry.

Prices range from about $325 to $2,500. Raincoats are less. So far, there's no hope of a boutique collection from Blass.

"To me, it isn't valid. To achieve that look, you have to use the most expensive fabrics. You can't translate it," he said.

Blass, who sat on a railing to narrate the show at the Plaza Hotel, said he most enjoyed doing the tailored day clothes. One dashing look was a country plaid cape over belted tunic and pants, tucked into over-the-knee boots by David Evins. Hats by Adolfo included bandage turbans and broad-brimmed felts.

Evening clothes ran the gamut from kimonos complete with Japanese wigs by Lupe to split level mini-midi chiffons. A Persian print panne velvet was worn with red snakeskin boots and wild gold necklace by William de Lillo.

One particularly good series was in dark green: cape, midi-dress trimmed in sable, coat, green satin blouse over green velvet skirt-over green boots.

Bond Issue Bill Would Bypass 10-Mill Limit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill to exempt bond issues from the state's 10-mill limitation on taxes went before the House Local Government and Urban Affairs Committee today.

Rep. Walter White, R-6 Lima, said the measure would take some of the heat off the Board of Tax Appeals now under pressure from the Supreme Court to adopt a uniform tax rate for all of Ohio.

The bill, expected to go to the full House next week, would get around a recent Ohio Supreme Court decision which holds that bonded indebtedness must be included in figuring municipalities' debt within the 10-mill limit.

"Everybody is talking about pollution," White said. "One way to eradicate it is with sewers—but in my county we can't build them because we are up to the limitation."

4 Officers Resign Posts In Dispute

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP) — Four of Oberlin's 12 city policemen resigned Monday for what City Manager Edward C. Smith said was complaints of police harassment voiced by a number of persons following a confrontation with some 300 youths Friday night.

Only one of the four, Patrolman Larry Wickham, was among policemen called to the disturbance following a dance and party at the Christ Episcopal Church Parish House.

Police Sgt. Eugene Barrow was hit on the head with a soft drink bottle and Police Chief Robert K. Ferber was beaten and kicked during the disturbance. Three other persons were injured.

Smith said he would ask the four who resigned, Wickham and Patrolmen Michael Kelley, Robert Jones and Robert Woodall, to reconsider. He said 20 citizens had signed a statement commending the way police handled the disturbance.

Smith said the police used only minimal force in defending themselves, used some tear gas, but did not pull their weapons. there were no immediate arrests.

"We feel if we are ever forced to hurt someone while enforcing the law we would not have support," Kelley said.

Jones, a juvenile officer who along with Wickham and Woodall gave two weeks notice in resigning, said, "I am not going to walk the streets as a policeman if I am not allowed to arrest lawbreakers."

The disturbance did not involve college students or anti-war activities under way at Oberlin College.

Stock Market Drifts Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued to drift lower in slow trading this afternoon.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 5.9 at 704.13. Losers outnumbered gainers by about 500 among the issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

Though restrained, trading volume was somewhat higher than the extremely low levels of the past two sessions.

Analysts said the absence of any good news and the continued uncertainty about the economy and the U.S. Cambodian venture were causing investors to remain on the sidelines.

Rails also registered heavy declines, with Southern Railway off 1¼ at 46, Penn Central down 1 to 16; and Southern Pacific off , to 29¼.

Steels, motors, electronics and metals also registered losses.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was off 1.9 at 247.3, with industrials down 3.2, rails off .8 and utilities down .7.

On the American Stock Exchange, prices included Milgo Electronics, down at 28¼; Potter Instruments, off & to 29&; Digital Equipment off 1¼ at 75½; STP Corp., down ½ at 32; and Loews Theatre's warrants, off ⅛ at 9¼.

Braniff International said it had canceled flights into the Lubbock airport because the control tower was destroyed.

The Smiley Elementary School was turned into a temporary morgue.

Several city water pumping stations were knocked out and during the early morning hours officials declared a water emergency, advising that it be used only for drinking and cooking.

At about 4:40 a.m., Lubbock police reported they were expecting the 21-story Great Plains building in the downtown area to fall "at any minute."

They cordoned off the area and allowed no one except police and fire units within 100 yards of the building.

The storm was part of a night-long siege of turbulent spring weather that ranged from the southern Plains to the Great Lakes. Tornadoes also dipped into parts of Kansas, Iowa, Wisconsin and Ohio, but damage in those areas was light.

Large hailstones, in some cases the size of grapefruit, pounded sections of northwest Texas and around Lubbock. Similarly large hail thrashed areas near Beverly, Kan., and Dysart, Iowa.

Torrential rains swamped parts of Kansas. Two to 3 inches, or more, fell at Tescott, northeast of Salina.

Tornadoes in Iowa touched down near Cedar Rapids, at Dysart southwest of Waterloo and at Atlantic, east of Omaha, Neb.

A twister spun into rural area east of Salina, Kan., and damaged farm buildings and uprooted trees.

Funnel clouds also were sighted southeast of Madison, Wis., and southeast of Columbus, Ohio.

The violent weather generally marked the dividing line between cool weather to the north and warm and humid conditions to the south.

OSU Council Holds Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State University Faculty Council met this morning to discuss a possible reopening of the university, closed May 6 because of rioting on campus.

The meeting of the 88-member council was closed.

University President Novice G. Fawcett called the meeting in the Administration Building.

Twenty-eight students, representing a number of campus student groups that seek reopening the university, met Monday night and drafted a statement they said would be presented to the university administration.

A group of 300 faculty members decided at a meeting Monday to call a faculty convention for noon Wednesday. This would be open to all faculty members at the university.

Scioto Band Boosters Plan Coming Events

The May 5 meeting of the Scioto Band Boosters was held in the school cafeteria.

The main topic of discussion was a proposed trip for the band members. They will leave by chartered bus for Cedar Point June 17, if the trip is approved by parents. They will spend the day at the Point.

A picnic at Gold Cliff Park is planned for June 28. The boosters will furnish chicken.

Health Commissioners List Child Accident Preventions

After being confined to the home all winter, spring has a catalytic effect on our children. They are so glad to be outdoors in the fresh air and sunshine that they sometimes act without thinking by running into the street, causing serious injury or death to themselves.

"Now is the time to caution your youngsters about springtime accidents, but not to the extent that it will restrict their play activity. Provide supervision whenever possible so that you can apply the "brakes" to some of their more vigorous games and play," so states Dr. Frank Moore, health commissioner of the Pickaway County Health Department and Paul Roan of the Circleville Health Department.

For the older children, bike riding will be a major springtime activity. Actually this may be the first opportunity for your child to "try his wings" since Santa made his visit last Christmas. Without proper training and instructions this first bike ride would well be the last. Many such intances have occurred to youngsters just like yours.

Here are a few safety suggestions recommended by the Accident Prevention Unit, Ohio Department of Health that could save your child from serious injury or death:

Bicycle Safety Recommendations:

1. If there is a need to practice bicycle driving skill, select a safe place. Choose a place that is level and free from hazards of all kinds. Learning to ride a bike means knowing how to handle the brakes — how to turn — how to stop — and how to react under unexpected situations. Stay off the public roads until you are confident that you can handle your bike. Letting the bike handle you can be dangerous.

2. Learn the traffic regulations for your community. If you are not sure call your police department.

3. Always ride single file, never abreast. Learn to share the road with others. This lesson will be very important to you later on when you learn to drive a car.

4. When approaching an intersection, come to a complete stop and be ready to yield the right-of-way. Look both ways before crossing.

5. Ride on the right side of the road — with the flow of traffic. This is the same rule other drivers use when driving an automobile.

6. Do not change lanes suddenly or without checking for oncoming traffic. A rear view mirror is a necessary part of your bike safety equipment.

7. When turning, give the proper hand signal (another safe driving rule).

8. Learn how to make a left turn at a busy intersection. Wait for the green light, walk your bike across.

9. Always expect the unexpected from motorists and other bike riders or pedestrians (this is called defensive driving). Remember to yield even if you are in the right. You can be right, but dead right.

10. Keep your bike in good repair: (a) Keep handlebars tight. (b) Use a chain guard. (c) Keep pedals in good repair. (d) Brakes should be kept in good working condition.

11. Stunt riding is unsafe anytime.

12. Bike riders should yield right-of-way to all persons — especially to the very young and older persons.

Kite Flying Safety:

Mothers who are tired of their brood being under foot may say to them, "Go fly a kite!" Well, many of them will take the hint and do just that. Kite flying is a lot of fun, but look out for the hazards:

1. Fly kites in an open field away from electric lines and trees.

2. Do not use metal or wet string. This kind of string conducts electricity.

3. Watch out for traffic. Preoccupation is a chief cause of accidents.

4. Never try to retrieve a kite from electric power lines. Call the electric company and they will get it down for you.

Every community has the problem of children being injured or killed by running from between parked cars or into traffic. Playing near a street or alleyway is probably the chief cause. Should a ball roll into the street, remember to look both ways before retrieving it.

Start teaching safety to your children at an early age. Proper safety instruction at home will, in all probability, remain with the child throughout his lifetime. Creating the proper safety attitude is all important. The school should implement what is being taught at home. The home and school working together can make the child more conscious of some of the unsafe conditions in our environment today.

Taxpayers Must Report Accounts

MIAMI (AP) — Americans will be required to report their foreign bank accounts on their tax returns for 1970, the director of the Internal Revenue Service announced Monday.

Randolph W. Thrower, the IRS head, told the University of Miami Tax Conference: "Taxpayers will be required to disclose the existence of foreign bank accounts on 1970 tax returns."

Thrower said the IRS now is considering the manner in which the bank accounts will be reported.

"The law does not provide our agents with all of the tools they need to cope with the illegal use of foreign banks," Thrower said. He said a Treasury Department task force is working on the problem and will develop recommendations.

Describing secret foreign bank accounts as a "matter of growing concern," the IRS chief said the anonymity they offer has been used to conceal income from such things as narcotics smuggling, black market currency operations in Southeast Asia and illegal trading in gold.

"There are a significant number of foreign accounts opened primarily to facilitate tax evasion by people who otherwise appear respectable and law abiding," Thrower said.

Ohio's Financial Condition To Be Big Campaign Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The two major candidates for governor of Ohio indicate the financial condition of the state will be a major issue in the fall campaign.

State Auditor Roger Cloud, who easily overwhelmed his two opponents in the Republican primary, is in St. Petersburg, Fla., for two weeks of rest.

He plans to start filming TV campaign commercials — complete with suntan-soon after returning to Ohio.

Democratic candidate John Gilligan, also an easy winner in the primary, is delaying a vacation to plan the campaign that will culminate at the Nov. 3 general election.

Both candidates shy from firm statements about campaign platform planks, but spokesmen for both say Ohio's financial condition will probably be the main topic, ahead of such issues as law and order and campus disorders.

Gilligan's staff point to their candidate's youthful appearance and articulate campaigning as major assets.

Cloud's campaigners say their man's maturity and quiet, calm approach to issues will be a major asset.

Gilligan, 49, is a veteran Cincinnati city councilman and served one term in Congress before losing to Republican William Saxbe in the 1968 U.S. Senate race.

Cloud, 60, is a state auditor, former legislator and speaker of the Ohio House.

Both men have been assuming for weeks that they would meet each other in the fall. Each began taking aim at the other even before they had won party nominations.

Cloud ran a professional and well financed primary campaign under the direction of Deerdorf, Bailey and Bowen, a Washington public relations firm that has managed several successful gubernatorial campaigns in the east.

Gilligan, whose campaign is not centrally directed by an agency, is using David Garth to direct his media presentations Garth, a visual director, handled the media operations for New York Mayor John Lindsay's successful 1969 campaign.

A sample of potential bickering came when Cloud aides noted that Gilligan has adopted the dark blue and green colors of the 1968 Saxbe campaign.

Gilligan forces replied that Cloud is using the same light blue and white colors of the 1968 Gilligan Senate try.

Spokesmen for both candidates say their candidates have agreed to debate but that they have heard nothing from the other side.

At least one television station has offered free air time for a debate between the candidates.

5 Students Still Treated

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Five Kent State University students wounded in an antiwar demonstration a week ago were still in hospitals Monday, one of them under intensive care.

Dean Kahler, 20, of East Canton, Ohio, was in intensive care at Robinson Memorial Hospital in nearby Ravenna, where he was in guarded condition with chest and abdominal wounds.

John Cleary, 18, of Scotia, N.Y., was removed from intensive care and was listed in fair condition with a chest wound.

Also in fair condition were Joseph Lewis, 18, of Massillon, Ohio and Thomas Grace, 18, of Syracuse, N.Y.

Robert Stamps, 19, of South Euclid, Ohio, was reported in satisfactory condition at University Hospital in Cleveland.

Innocent Front Returns

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

I grew up, sociologically speaking, in the New York City of the Nineteen Thirties. It was a yeasty time, and the blandishments of the Left were compelling up to a point. And a daily book columnist for the New York Times I knew numerous radicals in the publishing business, many of whom had gone all the way into the Communist Party. Some of them were cynics in addition to being revolutionaries. They talked quite openly about "innocent fronts" and "transmission belts," meaning, of course, the liberal organizations that could be counted on to spread the Communist line without knowing what they were doing. Later, as a member of the Newspaper Guild at Time, Inc., I learned a good deal more from Whittaker Chambers about the operations of the Left.

As a veteran who has lived through one period of the innocent front and transmission belt sort of thing I hoped I would never have to do it again. Alas! The history of the Thirties is being repeated. When thirty-seven college presidents can come up on the same page in the newspapers with a statement about the foreign policy of their country that is practically indistinguishable in one from a speech in an adjoining column by Premier Kosygin of the Soviet Union, I know we are in the presence of one of the most influential innocent fronts of them all.

Well, I for one, object to being subjected to the indignity of having to live in a nation of patsies. We have only one President, and he will be in office, Heaven protect him, until 1973. Despite the collective opinion of those thirty-seven college presidents, the fact is incontestable that you cannot fight a war, even a war of successful extrication, if you are to deny yourself the right to flank your enemy when he is successfully preparing to outflank you. The situation in Southeast Asia was drastically changed when the new Cambodian government of Premier Lon Nol was endangered by North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops who were threatening to surround the capital of Phnom Penh.

A Cambodia controlled by the Communists would compete the investment of South Vietnam on the north and on the west, making it impossible for any process of "Vietnamization" of the war to succeed.

If thirty-seven college presidents are unable to grasp such an elementary point of strategic thinking, it speaks volumes. How, with such innocents running our educational system, is it possible for anyone to teach the inexorable facts of war. It won't do for the college presidents to say that we should not be in a war in Vietnam. The fact is that we are. Nixon is doing his best to get us out of it without provoking a tragedy that will only lead to further conflict under more diadvantageous situations. He deserves a fighting chance to carry through with his policies, which have been supported by a majority of the people.

The poor fellow may not get away with it after the weakening processes that have been at work in America for the last five years. Last week, at Yale, I talked with students on the right and in the center and even left of center who kept saying, "Don't bring my name into it." The knew they couldn't afford themselves the luxury of free speech or attempted argument. Some of them said they had been threatened. At one university in central Massachusetts a conservative group had to cancel an invitation to hear a prominent authority on the state of affairs in Castro's Cuba. My colleague Bill Buckley was supposed to be a temporary fellow-in-residence at one of the Yale colleges during the week that would have culminated in Law Day if the Law Day observances had not been cancelled. But the college master who had invited Bill decided that it would be safer if his distinguished guest postponed his visit until next fall.

This is America in 1970. Young Americans for Freedom can't attempt to raise an American flag without being subjected to threats of bodily injury. The Nineteen Thirties were bad enough. But the Seventies promise to be infinitely worse.

Why are we reduced to such a state? It is because the Left understands the principles of social jujitsu. It knows the dynamics of trapping our innocents into motions that end with the innocents knocking themselves out.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, May 12, the 132nd day of 1970. There are 233 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1937, Britain's King George VI succeeded to the throne on the abdication of his brother, Edward VIII.

On this date:

In 1797, the city of Venice was captured by Napoleon after many centuries of independence.

In 1820, the English woman who is considered the founder of modern nursing, Florence Nightingale, was born in Florence, Italy.

In 1932, the body of the kidnaped baby son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh was found in a wooded area in Hopewell, N.J.

In 1938, a Japanese fleet captured the Chinese island of Amoy.

In 1949, Soviet occupation authorities in Berlin announced that the blockade of land routes to the isolated city had been lifted.

In 1963, President John F. Kennedy disclosed that federal troops had been ordered to bases near riot-torn Birmingham, Ala.

Ten years ago — The United States sent a note to Moscow saying the U-2 flights over Soviet territory were for purely defensive purposes and had no aggressive intent.

Five years ago—It was estimated that 12,000 persons had perished in a cyclonic storm in East Pakistan.

One year ago—General Motors announced a halt in the production of its rear-engine car, the Chevrolet Corvair.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — From this chronological viewpoint, less than five monthsize steps into the 1970s, some widely held notions of the Soaring Sixties seem very worn and aged, as if they belonged farther back in history.

Great economic strides were made in the '60s, so large that there often was little time for reflection. Now the economy is taking baby steps, if it is moving at all, and there is time to reflect.

Conglomerate Magic—Maybe there was magic for a time. During the 1960s millions of Americans believed that the conglomerators, the men who assemble disparate businesses under one corporate roof, were geniuses.

So long as investors believed this to be true the stock of conglomerates continued to rise. Thus providing them with more money to acquire more companies.

Their profits look good too; something about synergism, or the total being greater than the parts. Popularly this effect was described by the phrase: "Two and two equal five." The expanding economy contributed too, of course.

The economy slowed. Profits slipped, Investors wondered if synergism was fact or myth. They sold. The shares of conglomerates dropped in price. No longer did they have the funds to buy other companies.

Unable to continue expanding geometrically, the conglomerates were forced to concede that, for the time being, two and two didn't equal five after all.

This year one of the premier conglomerators, James Ling of Ling-Temco-Vought, reported that his company was running a deficit. The stock, which had been as high as $135.75 in the past couple of years, is now down to $14.37.

Mutual Fund Miracles—When the stock market was rising some mutual funds, particularly new ones, showed tremendous gains. There was a euphoric feeling in the market place for several years, and the funds rode this soaring optimism.

Investing in so-called glamor stocks, some of the funds reported asset gains of better than 50 per cent in one year. Money poured into their coffers, and some of these funds grew to enormous, sometimes billion-dollar size.

The turn became obvious a couple of years ago. Some of the larger funds were shown to be dinosauric. Big and cumbersome, maybe overfed, they couldn't adapt to a changed invironment. Colder economic weather trapped them.

As it turned out, some of those glamor stocks had high prices mainly because the funds were investing in them. And, when profits of these glamor companies ceased to continue rising, the funds, as chief owners, found themselves to be among the principal losers.

Prepare to shed a tear over the story of the head of a Frankfurt Aquarium who determined to acquire a live Alaska king crab for his collection. After a long wait, he heard that just the one he wanted had been caught in Alaskan waters. It measured a full seven feet across, and was immediately packed in crushed ice to be flown from Anchorage to Frankfurt, via Paris.

For the two-hour stopover in the French capital, it was transferred to the large refrigerator of the most famous seafood restaurant in town—and you probably can guess what happened. The head chef, whom nobody had bothered to tell why the king crab was being kept there, took one look at it, cried "Magnifique" —and cooked it.

The Frankfurt man has now latched on to an even larger Alaskan king crab, but says that this time he's having it shipped via Tel Aviv.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I teach kindergarten and young children and have for years been using one of your columns to impress on them safe ways of approaching animals. Not one of my children has been bitten or harmed in the past four years. I believe it would be most important if more educators would practice these techniques with their children. I have found this an excellent method of impressing young children.

Mrs. M.M.E., Illinois

Dear Mrs. E.: I believe, as you do, that the early indoctrination of the rules of safety is the ideal way to prevent accidents, injuries, dog bites and if you will, the dangers of tobacco and drugs. The impressionable mind of a child is remarkable soil in which to implant a health idea, nourish it, and help it grow.

In the past few years I have been overwhelmingly impressed with the frequency with which pre-school children emphatically say, "I'll never smoke, it can make you very sick." I am certain also that this type of teaching can lay the groundwork for the avoidance of the drug threat that surrounds us.

Educators are aware of the capacity of children to understand attitudes and concepts that at first seem to be beyond them. All of us have noticed how quickly a young child senses a feeling of tension between people, even though the words seem to be disguised.

I am going to repeat the information contained in the column to which you refer. I hope that others will find it helpful, too.

The United States Public Health Service believes that more than 50 per cent of all severe dog bites can be prevented if some of these rules are followed:

Don't wake a dog suddenly. Don't take his food or bone away. Be particularly careful of a mother bitch who is protecting her puppies. Teach children never to tease dogs or to approach one tied up or locked in a car.

Never to go near any dog without the definite approval of the owner. Certain dogs may appear to be gentle, adorable and cute but may turn out to be truly vicious.

A child should be taught that the proper way to approach an animal is by extending the back of his hand, talking to the dog in a low, affectionate voice and allowing the dog to come to him. Any quick motion, no matter how well-intentioned, may frighten the dog who instinctively protects himself, sometimes by biting.

It is important that the process of teaching these rules to a child must not be associated with unnecessary fears. This can be psychologically harmful as the child grows and may permanently affect his attitude towards animals.

Despite every precaution, bites will occasionally occur. Children can be taught to tell someone about the bite, no matter how slight it is. The wound can be cleaned with soap and water and if the skin is badly broken must be treated to prevent infection.

Rabies is remarkably uncommon, but must be considered in every case of an unprovoked bite by a dog and must be reported immediately to the Board of Health.

Stomach ulcers can be caused by what you eat, and by what is eating you.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Many are asking why or how the university riots erupted. Let us consider a probable cause.

Recently Jerry Rubin, revolutionary leader of the "Chicago 7" told more than 1,500 students at Kent State University that — "until you people are prepared to kill your parents, you aren't ready for the revolution."

Calling parents the first oppressors, Rubin continued — "quit being students. Become criminals. We have to disrupt every institution and break every law." As Rubin spoke, several students circulated through the audience, collecting money for the legal expenses of the Chicago 7 and for four Kent State students convicted of riot charges stemming from incidents last fall.

Rubin left the campus with two airline bags of money collected from the students.

On April 14, 1970 the same Jerry Rubin had stunned his audience of about 1,000 students at Stanford University by declaring — "Kill your parents. They are dictators over us. They're trying to get us to live the same miserable lives they do." At this point, all but a few hundred of the students left.

The Stanford University newspaper said "Rubin kept the remaining audience — laughing — 'thinking' — and applauding. A cresendo of excitement developed and when Rubin raised his fist in a final communist salute to action the audience rose in an outburst of approval."

Rubin spelled out the New Left hatred of education in these words "Every student is a political prisoner. This is just advanced toilet training. They're training us to be new trustees.

"——grades, —— exams. Start by not going to class tomorrow. The war is not just in Asia; it's on campuses. School imposes guilt, it's a pacification program. Intellectuals are working for nothing. We can only succeed by breaking it down. If we close the universities, we deliver a body blow to society. Don't go on an intellectual trip, go on a life trip. I'm talking about life and death. Books should be burned. They oppress us. —— history. Get stoned and look to the future."

This is the same Jerry Rubin who is already under a sentence to a prison term and a $5,000 fine for his revolutionary activities at the 1968 Democratic Convention. Yet out on bail over the objections of Judge Julius Hoffman, he is again calling for murder and revolution. Promising to lead a movement to destroy the nations' colleges Rubin declared "We are going to invade the schools and free our brothers who are prisoners. We will burn the buildings and the books. We will give brooms and pails to the administrators so they can be useful and clean the place up. Demonstrations aren't demonstrations, they're jail breaks, slave revolts. By closing down 100 universities a day, we, the peasants, can level the most powerful blow possible against the pigs who run American society. We'll force the President of the United States to come to the conference table on his hands and knees. We're using the campus as a launching pad to forment revolution everywhere. We can win this war. We've got America on the run. We've combined youth, music, sex, drugs and rebellion with treason and that's a combination hard to beat."

Comrade Rubin forsees all colleges closed by riots and sabotage. He says he envisions high school students seizing TV, radio and newspaper offices around the country.

He suggests that youths lock their parents out of their suburban homes and turn them into guerilla bases — storing arms.

Why hasn't Jerry Rubin, who has correctly said, "We are stealing the youth of America right out of the kindergarten and elementary schools" — been thrown right back into prison without bail? This man is free only at the sufference of the courts. Why does the establishment judiciary continue to 'protect' him?

And remember folks you can multiply the above remarks of Mr. Rubin by six for the other Chicago 7 defendents as well as their so-called legal council, Mr. Kunstler are just as active on speaking tours as is Mr. Rubin.

Since most of the college uprisings seem to follow, by a week or two, the visits of this group of traitors it seems to me the National Guard has to sent out two weeks too late. In order to "fire at will" at the time of these visits would have seemed in order and most justifiable.

Why has the silence been so deafening on the part of our national leaders and our legislators on both state and national level. The one national leader who has had the guts to speak out was told in no uncertain terms yesterday to "cool it." It seems now is the time to let them know where we stand, and in no uncertain terms.

Dear Editor:

As a student of Dickinson College, I am writing this letter in hopes of helping you to understand the motives and desires of students here concerning the activities embracing many campuses, which perhaps reflects the attitude of the majority of students across the nation.

Dickinson is a small, liberal arts college located in Carlisle, Pa. The townspeople are conservative and often react strongly to college activities which they fear will affect their lives and that of their children. Normally, the campus is quiet (we joke — not always laughingly — about our apathy) and, as a whole, dedicated to the academic process; a great majority of us go on to graduate school, particularly law and medicine.

Following the spread of the war into Cambodia and the Kent State tragedy, the college witnesses a massive surge of activity, of restlessness, of confusion, and of helplessness. Late Monday night a student assembly was called to plan action, the first of several such meetings. The student body was at first irrational in its desire for action and in its effort to denounce its previous apathy. Within an hour, however, order governed and marked the beginning of a dedication to a cause to which two-thirds of our students are committed. (This has been substantiated by a college referendum.) I will not deny that many factions — the SDS and other groups — tried to manipulate the group and superimpose their values, but their leadership was rejected.

The assembly voted to strike, agreeing with the National Student Association's resolution protesting the expansion of the war and the resumption of bombing in North Vietnam. This strike is for an indefinite period; those agreeing with it are asked to boycott classes. But let me stress that this is entirely an individual, moral decision; we have in no way interfered with students who wish to continue their normal academic pursuits. We have sent a group of student lobbyists to Washington in hopes of gaining Congressional support for our cause.

We are boycotting carbonated drinks, asking these powerful lobbyists to aid us. Three hundred people have begun a hunger strike initiated by a fraternity; the money saved is going toward a general strike fund. We have plans for a massive but peaceful march on the U.S. Army War College, located in Carlisle. We have obtained a permit and asked for state and local police protection. Many of us are writing letters, as I am doing, to urge support for our cause. All of these efforts are working within the system, our system as well as yours, because we wish no violence, no more Kent State's.

We act and will continue to because we are united in our belief that our presence in Vietnam is morally wrong. We protest the killing, the destruction of a culture and of a country's natural resources, and U.S. support of a nonrepresentative government. We believe that the honor and dignity of America is not worth the loss of one more life — Communist, Vietnamese, or American. We hold that the United States has no moral obligation, no right, to be in Vietnam or any other country except our own, which is plagued by yet unsolved problems. We can not tolerate President Nixon's apparent lack of concern for and consideration of students.

In closing, I ask you to consider what I have said and understand that this feeling matches that of thousands of other students. We are concerned students, not radical anarchists. For those of you who can agree even to some extent, please support us and help us — write our Congressmen for example. For those of you who cannot agree, please respect us as we respect you.

Dear Editor:

This letter is directed to anyone involved in the terrible student demonstrations of the past few days.

I am 22 years old, so I am not just another person in the "establishment, who doesn't understand." I don't like the Vietnam war. All the fighting and killing is heartbreaking, but I love my country and our President. I don't always like everything he does, but I'll stand behind him. I am glad I live in a country where we have the freedom to do and say what we please.

Why must we try to divide this great nation? Why can't we help our President and back him all the way? Do you think he likes all this killing? Of course he doesn't. He has a tremendous job to do and I for one think he is trying to do the best he can. For you who demonstrated and speak freely against the Vietnam war — what is your solution? How do we pull out immediately? How do we help the people there have freedom like we have? How do we keep communism only where it is wanted? You stand up and complain and fight in the streets like animals, with no care of what you destroy. What are you showing people? Don't you know each violent action, such as the way these campus demonstrations turn out to be, is letting our enemies know we are dividing? Together, we stand; divided, we fall. That is what they are waiting for. Do you realize what it would be like if they take over here? Each little country, like Vietnam, they control, gives them more strength.

Like I said, I don't want fighting and killing. I want Vietnam and other small wars to end. I have a brother-in-law, a wonderful guy, who is missing in action in Vietnam. Many of you know him. We are praying to God he will return to us safe and alive. He doesn't like killing or wars, but I know he is proud to go and fight for all of you to preserve freedom in Vietnam.

We have a right to stand up for what we think is wrong, but there is a right way of doing things. A lawful way. If everyone broke the law, what would we have? You say — no one will listen! Well, I don't have an answer to that problem, but do you think you could take over President Nixon's job? I wouldn't want it! He has about 30 years of life and experience ahead of you. What makes you think you know so much about running the world? Our generation will some day be in charge. The way some of you show no responsibility and care of what you destroy in the process of getting what you want — I'm not sure I want to be around when "our generation," takes over. The only way to win this terrible, terrible war in Vietnam or any where else, is to show the other people of the world, that we love our freedom and our nation, and we will defend it because of that.

Let's get behind our President and help him win freedom for others in the best way he knows how. Don't let all the boys who have paid with their lives, die for nothing. Let them know that if they must fight, that our hearts are behind them.

America — Love it or Leave it!

Hatlo's They'll Do It Every Time

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

The Truth Is Still Preferable

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter, a junior honor student in college, came home for Easter vacation and told us she wasn't going back because she was five months pregnant and beginning to "show."

She said the man (a graduate student) agreed to marry her; but wanted a divorce after the baby was born because "marriage didn't fit into his plans." She refused his offer of marriage and has decided to keep the baby. She says she doesn't believe in signing a child away like a piece of property.

Her father and I are behind her all the way. We are not trash. We are educated, and considered "nice" people.

We've decided to tell people that our daughter's "husband" went to Viet Nam and when he returned he had "changed," so she divorced him. Our clergyman advised us to tell that story and to stick with it.

We still haven't worked out the problem of the baby's name. Any suggestions?

NO NAME OR TOWN, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: With all due respects to your clergyman, I say the less lying the better. "O, what a tangled web we weave when first we practice to deceive."

DEAR ABBY: Re a letter from "IRKED" whose "beef" was a nurse who talked too much about her profession at a dinner party. My "beef" is just the opposite. I, too, am a nurse, and I wish people would let me forget it when I'm off duty.

When I'm in uniform I am constantly cornered by strangers who want to give me their complete medical history, and expect an instant diagnosis and even suggestions for treatment. I can be standing in a cafeteria line, in a grocery store, or waiting for a bus. When I'm out socially, my friends will do the same. I try to cut them short by asking, "Have you spoken to your family doctor about this," but it rarely shuts them up. So you may sign me...

IRKED, TOO

DEAR IRKED: Try the standard squelch used by a doctor-friend of mine when he is asked for professional advice at a cocktail party: "I can't discuss it without a physical examination first. Take your clothes off!"

DEAR ABBY: I am a happily married woman with three children. There is something about which my husband and I disagree, and I want your opinion.

I am a fairly good housekeeper and I have a lot to do. Lately I have been getting up about 4:30 in the morning. I can't get back to sleep again once I'm up, so I very quietly get out of bed, close the bedroom door, and find some housework to do. I'm not "sick" or anything. I'm just all slept out and I wake up. I sometimes wash and wax my floors, do some ironing, and mending and other chores I can't do with three children running in and out.

My husband says I am "nuts!" In fact, we've gotten into some real fights over it. I say it doesn't matter what time I do my work, and as long as I can't sleep, what's the difference? I never disturb him. Am I "nuts" or is my husband being unreasonable?

EARLY BIRD

DEAR EARLY: You are not "nuts." Your husband is unreasonable. (And I am not merely taking the woman's side.) If your husband were to get up at that hour and busy himself, if you objected, I'd say YOU were "unreasonable."

CONFIDENTIAL TO "I. M. DOOMED": Please send me your address. Many readers have responded with a treasury of encouragement for you.

Wholesale Prices Stay Unchanged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices did not decline in April as indicated in a preliminary report, but the final figures issued Monday nevertheless cheered the administration: they failed to rise for the first time in 18 months.

Only farm and food prices declined in the wholesale index, however.

Industrial raw materials rose three-tenths of one per cent, but this too was a hopeful indicator, because it represented a 3.6 per cent annual rise instead of the 4 per cent rate of increase at the start of the year.

The index stood at 116.6 per cent of the 1957-59 average in April. That compared with 111.9 per cent a year earlier.

This meant that it cost $116.60 in March and April, on the average, to buy the same assortment of wholesale goods which would have cost $100 in 1957-59.

For all commodities represented in the index, the price average was 4.2 per cent above a year ago, down from a 4.8 per cent rate of annual rise in January.

An even better showing had been hoped for when the tentative index figures were released on April 29. They showed a decline of one-tenth of one per cent in the wholesale index, the first drop in 20 months.

West Virginia And Nebraska Have Elections

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Voters in Nebraska and West Virginia ballot today to choose candidates for the U.S. Senate. In Newark, N.J., six candidates vie in a mayoral election that appears headed for a runoff.

Incumbent Sens. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, a Democrat, and Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska, a Republican, were considered strong favorites for renominations.

Byrd, seeking a third term, was opposed by John J. McOwen, a Huntington lawyer whose only previous political try was an unsuccessful campaign for the state legislature in the 1950s.

There was no GOP candidate for Byrd's post. But the vacancy can be filled by action of the Republican executive committee in time for the general election.

West Virginia's five incumbent representatives—all Democrats—were seeking renomination. All but Rep. Harley O. Staggers, chairman of the House Commerce Committee, faced opposition.

In Nebraska, Hruska faced only token opposition in the GOP primary. In the Democratic race, former Gov. Frank B. Morrison faced lively competition from Wallace C. Peterson, University of Nebraska Economics Department chairman.

Also at stake was the Republican nomination for governor, with state Sen. Clifton B. Batchelder, a well-to-do Omaha businessman, making a vigorous challenge to the renomination bid of incumbent Norbert T. Tiemann.

In the Newark mayoral election the field included incumbent Hugh J. Addonizio who faces trial next month on a federal indictment, two blacks, and a militant white law-and-order candidate.

Glenn Set To Support Party Ticket

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"He may not want my endorsement," John H. Glenn said Monday when asked if he would support Democratic Senate candidate Howard M. Metzenbaum in November.

Glenn told newsmen he would support the party ticket but refused repeatedly to give an endorsement to Metzenbaum, who beat the former astronaut in last Tuesday's primary election.

"I just can't say," Glenn told the news conference. "We just haven't had a chance to get together and talk about it."

Glenn blamed his defeat on a lack of funds. He said his people arranged all of the free radio and television time they could get but it wasn't enough to offset the Metzenbaum barrage of paid advertising.

"Where I was dealing with thousands of dollars the opposition was dealing with millions," he said.

Glenn said he had no plans to become active in either the state or national Democratic organizations. But he said he would continue to make his home in Columbus and retain it as his political base.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — This is the season for summing up, for patting on the back and for passing out awards.

In television, preparations are under way for presentation of Emmy Awards for programs, performers, writers and directors on June 7 during an ABC program.

This year, technical and craft awards of little interest to the general public will be presented a couple of weeks from now at an untelevised dinner of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences as a means of cutting down the clutter and length of the big show.

Close to 170 programs and individuals have been nominated for industry honors. Here follows the choices of this viewer —who would skip a ballot in a lot of the categories.

NBC's "My Sweet Charlie," a film feature with Patty Duke and Al Freeman Jr., certainly shaped up as the season's outstanding single dramatic program and the performances of the two leads were superb.

CBS's "Annie, the Women in the Life of a Man" starring Anne Bancroft was original, charming and funny. It towered over the other variety programs of the season.

"Sesame Street" of the educational network was without much doubt the season's outstanding new series and its impact was felt through all of television. Partly because of its acceptance, the networks have made an effort to upgrade their schedules of children's programs.

"My World and Welcome to It" on NBC was a valiant effort to get away from the tired formula situation comedy. ABC often succeeded in doing something bright and different with comedy in "Love, American Style" and has something warm and wise going in "Room 222."

David Frost with his syndicated series and Dick Cavett with his late night show on ABC have added some class and crackle to the talk shows. Both are nominees for Emmys in a classification that pits them, rather unfairly, against shows like "Laugh-In" and "The Carol Burnett Show."

Candidates for an Emmy in the "outstanding dramatic series" group include the new "Marcus Welby, M.D.," a workmanlike doctor series. Others—"Ironside," "Mod Squad" and "The Name of the Game" are simply good, slick action series. "The Forsythe Saga is a British series made several years ago. Probably the educational network's "NET Playhouse" which tried for diversity and was often stimulating, is most deserving of the statuette in this category.

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio:

Thundershowers developed over Ohio Monday evening and just about all reporting points had measureable rainfall.

Zanesville received .98 and .75 fell at the Canton-Akron airport. Cleveland had .40 and Youngstown .35.

Temperatures showed little change from Sunday with highs mostly in the mid to upper 70s Monday. Toledo was the coolest with 75 and the highest was 83 in the Cincinnati area.

Early this morning temperatures ranged from the mid 50s to the mid 60s.

Little change appears likely for most of the state through Wednesday with periods of showers and thunderstorms mostly during the afternoon and evening.

Lows tonight will be in the 50s and low 60s again.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Partly cloudy through Wednesday with a chance of thundershowers mainly in the afternoon and evening. A little cooler near Lake Erie, otherwise little change. Highs Wednesday in the 70s and low 80s except in the 60s along the Lake Erie shore. Lows tonight in the 50s and low 60s.

NORTHWEST INLAND, WEST CENTRAL, CENTRAL, SOUTHWEST SOUTHEAST OHIO — Partly cloudy with little change in temperatures through Wednesday with a chance of thundershowers mainly in the afternoon and evening. Highs Wednesday in the 70s and low 80s. Lows tonight in the upper 50s and low 60s.

In 1927, a 10,000-square mile iceberg, eight times as large in area as Rhode Island, drifted past the Falkland Islands off Argentina.

Tri-County Vista Volunteers Kicked Out After Dispute

LOGAN, Ohio (AP) — Nine Vista volunteers ordered to take new assignments or be fired for allegedly meddling in welfare department operations took their cases to the Office of Economic Opportunity today.

The OEO reassigned the VISTAs (Volunteers In Service To America) at the request of commissioners of three counties—Hocking, Perry and Athens—covered by the Tri - County Community Action Agency based here.

Howard Blum, president of the Hocking County Commission here, said the board had received complaints the VISTAs were counseling and encouraging welfare recipients to seek higher payments and were advising other persons not receiving welfare to apply.

Blum said commissioners did not resent persons receiving welfare or applying for it, but he said they do resent "outsiders coming in to tell us how to operate."

Commissioners alleged that the workers interfered with welfare department operations.

Members of the Tri - County agency met Monday night and voted to support the OEO action.

Earlier in the day, about 30 sign-carrying members of the Peoples Rights and Benefits League met with Charles Ennis, agency director, to protest the action.

Ennis said the volunteers should have expected it. "We were told if Vistas got involved with the welfare department the governor would jerk them right out."

It was not clear, however, what role Gov. James A. Rhodes played in the dispute.

Ennis said the order came from Rhodes' office.

But one of the volunteers, Joe Lichtenstein, said the Chicago OEO office gave them the reassignment - or - dismissal order after receiving the commissioners requested action through the Ohio OEO office in Columbus.

He said Rhodes was not directly involved in the action.

Six of the workers said they will return to this area to work with the poor regardless of what happens at today's hearing at the OEO regional office in Chicago. The other three said they would take reassignment if necessary.

Hungry Hyena Eats Auto Tires

BLANTYRE, Malawi (AP) — Large ragged holes extending right through the walls in two car tires baffled the car's owner. The holes were made while the auto was parked at Mlange airport. Experts from a major tire manufacturer examined the tires and decided they had been partly eaten by a hungry hyena.

One of the HWI Friendly Ones — Sally Binkley, Bookkeeper

Living dangerously has been defined as having the living room sofa reupholstered while the children are still under 10 . . .

The happiest days of your life are school-days, providing your children are old enough to attend . . .

You can always tell when a youngster becomes a teen-ager. They quit asking where they came from and won't tell you where they're going . . .

Just think, a lot of these young male protesters rebelling against authority will soon grow up, get married, and start taking orders from their wives . . .

And then there's the story of the boy going to college . . . his major? . . . you guessed it . . . rioting . . .

Sally Binkley says, "There's a RIOT of Coupon and Bonus Buys in KOCHHEISER HARDWARE CO.'s Spring circular, and thousands more specials that aren't listed. From power tools to gifts to garden supplies — and everything else you might need . . . the people to see are the "HWI FRIENDLY ONES" at 113 West Main Street in Circleville." (P.S. Make your own WATER HARDNESS TEST
by Betty Lindsay

Is the water in your home all that you'd like it to be? Find out the approximate hardness. It's easy.

1. Take two fairly large glass jars of the same size.
2. Fill one halfway with rain water, clean melted snow or distilled water.
3. Fill the other halfway with tap water.
4. Add to each jar a teaspoonful of shampoo solution or detergent.
5. Shake both jars.

■ Now here's how you judge: If the lather in the tap water is not equal, add a second teaspoonful of detergent and stir or shake. If the lather now is equal to the second jar your tap water is twice as hard as the naturally soft water. If it takes 3 spoonfuls, the water is three times as hard.

■ This simple test shows how much detergent you waste.

■ For expert advice on water softeners, see us. We can make your living a lot softer, a lot nicer.

Newcomer's Hold Dance Pumpkin Hollow Style

KING AND QUEEN — Reigning over the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance held by Newcomer's Club are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Marquart, shown in their authentic costumes that won the award for them.

The Circleville Newcomer's Club held its Sadie Hawkins Day Dance Saturday evening, at the Grange building at the fairgrounds.

Members were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Rob Roy, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Dengler and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bushyeager. Decorations, in keeping with the rustic theme were bales of straw, outhouses, tables of barn siding, tablecloths of newsprint, logs and bouquets of weeds. Adorning the walls were burlap letters forming the words Pumpkin Hollow and clotheslines hung with appropriate clothing and long underwear. Barnsiding and lanterns formed the backdrop for the Stoney's who provided the music for the dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Marquart were selected to be the King and Queen of Pumpkin Hollow and were awarded a prize for their outstanding authentic clothing. Mrs. Marquart was wearing a dress made from a burlap feed bag, while Mr. Marquart was wearing blue jeans and red plaid flannel shirt.

Following the dance, a buffet supper, prepared by the food committee was served. Chairmen of the food committee were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bevan and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wilson. The event was enjoyed by forty-five couples.

Braves Edge Wildcats In Extra Innings

Steve Fischer Drives In Winning Run In Bottom Of Ninth

Steve Fischer's single in the bottom half of the ninth inning plated Greg Fouch with the winning run as Logan Elm edged Laurelville, 5-4, in a Scioto Valley Conference baseball game Monday.

The win gives the Braves a 7-8 record for the season. Wednesday they play at Piketon and Friday they host Paint Valley.

Wertie Teets was the winning pitcher, relieving Gary Francis in the eighth inning. In his two frames on the mound he struck out two and allowed one hit. Francis gave up nine hits, whiffed 11 and did not walk a single batter.

Mike Eveland went all the way for the Wildcats, limiting the braves to six hits. He fanned nine and walked six.

* * *

IN the second inning, Logan Elm scored when Teets singled, advanced on an error and a sacrifice and scored on Kenny Kurtz's single. Laurlville tied the score in the top of the third and then went ahead one in the fourth.

But the Braves bounced back into the lead in the bottom of the fourth on a single by Teets, a fielder's choice that saw both K. C. Jones and Teets safe and an error that allowed both to score.

In the fifth, Steve Curtis reached first on an error, advanced on a passed ball and a single by Francis and scored on Jones' sactifice fly.

The two run lead disappeared in the top of the seventh when Lowther singled, Eveland singled and Rick Fast tripled.

Both teams were blanked in the eighth inning and then Fouch was walked in the bottom of the ninth, setting the stage for Fischer's game winning hit.

Denny McLain Getting Ready For 'Opener'

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Denny McLain was a $16,000 -a - month baseball pitcher for the Detroit Tigers last summer. Today he's an unemployed former 31-game winner "living on an allowance from Big Daddy in Cleveland."

Fat paychecks will again roll for McLain come July 1 when his suspension for associations with gambling figures is lifted, but Denny's dollars won't—for the most part—be reaching his free-spending fingers.

"Mark McCormack became famous by handling the professional lives of Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and most of the golf crowd," qsaid McLain. "Now he's got my life in his hands."

McLain's money will go to McCormack's Cleveland headquarters and Denny, in turn, will get an allowance or out-of-pocket expenses.

"Anybody who has bills for me will have to send them to Mack," said McLain. "I have faith that he'll not allow me to get in such lousy financial shape again."

Not only has the loss of about $40,000 in salary hurt the Detroit hurler, but bad investments and his eagerness to spend led to a line of red figures at the bank.

"It'll take me a long, long time to become solvent again," he admitted. "I lost a big bundle investing in a paint company and did some other foolish things."

McLain's wife, Sharon, said he "was just a young boy who had never had money before and enjoyed suddenly being able to buy anything he wanted."

McLain's ire is raised by writers who he accuses "write far past their information. Someday the total story will come out and a lot of people will be surprised—especially some sports writers I know."

'72 Women's Open Schedule Settled

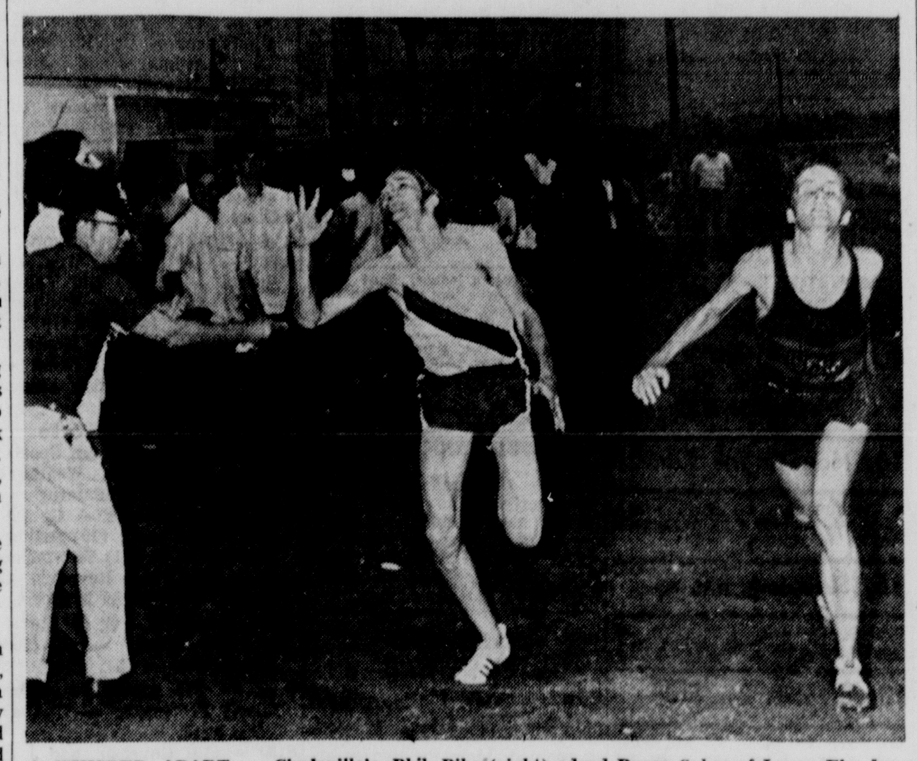
NEW YORK (AP) — The 1972 U.S. Women's Open Golf Championship will be played June 29-July 2 over the East Course of the Winged Foot Golf Club in Mamaroneck, N.Y. The U.S. Golf Association made the announcement today.

The 1970 Women's Open is scheduled July 2-5 at the Muskogee, Okla., Country Club, and the 1971 event at the Kahwa Club in Erie, Pa., June 24-27.

Arizona State sophomore Calvin Demery caught 11 passes for 201 yards and two touchdowns, made six tackles and intercepted a pass against Minnesota in his first college game this fall.

Five Records Set

Circleville Takes County Track Meet At Logan Elm



A WHISPER APART — Circleville's Phil Pike (right) edged Byron Sykes of Logan Elm by a few scant inches in the record two-mile run during the All-County Track Meet Monday. Time of the race was 10:27.4. Sykes and Pike matched each other stride for stride, with Sykes in the lead until the final 220 yards of the race.

Circleville took it all Monday in a county track meet at Logan Elm in which five new track records were set.

The Tigers led the field with 102 points, Teays Valley was second with 64½, Logan Elm 54½ and Westfall was fourth with five points.

Dick Walters of Circleville set new records in both the high and low hurdles. He covered the highs in 15.5 and the lows in 20.7.

Circleville's Bill McGowan set a new 880 mark with a time of 2:07.6.

The Tigers mile relay squad put a new mark in the book speeding over the cinders in 3:45.

* * *

A NEW record was set in the 2-mile by Circleville's Phil Pike in 10:27.4 in a nose to nose battle with Byron Sykes of Logan Elm. Pike finally nipped Sykes at the wire in a real thriller.

Jeff Helser of Teays Valley was given the most valuable trophy award. He placed first in the 100-yard dash, the 220 and the 440.

More Home Runs Not Due To Ball

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The National League office offered some statistics Monday to show what pitchers already know—the baseball is being hit more often and farther.

But NL President Charles Feeney reaffirmed that there has been no change in manufacture of the league ball.

After 174 games, figures show 428 homers have been hit this season, 192 more than the 236 through 174 games last season.

In other categories, 185 more runs have been scored, the number of doubles has increased by 67, and triples by 23.

Last weekend produced 63 home runs in the National League, counting games of Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Feeney said some new baseballs with his signature have been introduced, but that most of the balls were left over from last season and bear the signature of former NL President Warren Giles.

Feeney's office released a statement from Paul F. Collins, president of the A.G. Spalding Co., which manufactures baseballs for both major leagues.

"No change in the manufacturing of the baseballs has been requested or made this year, last year or the past 45 years," it said.

Wally Bunker led Kansas City Royal pitchers last season with 12 victories. The ex-Baltimore Oriole lost 11 times. He completed 10 of 31 starts for the expansion team.

Preakness Field Set Saturday

BALTIMORE (AP) — The lineup for the 95th Preakness on Saturday now appears solid with 13 starters representing 12 betting interests.

Such a field would boost the gross figure to $201,800 with the winner getting $149,300. Both figures represent record payoffs.

James P. Mills' Buzkashi joined the lineup Monday and is expected to arrive at Pimlico Race Course here later this week.

Dust Commander and My Dad George, one-two in the Kentucky Derby, turned in sharp workouts Monday in preparation for Saturday's running of the second leg of the triple crown.

My Dad George went three-quarters of a mile in 1:12 3-5 with exercise boy Don McFarren, who reported the colt "really wanted to run."

Dust Commander got his first workout since arriving from Churchill Downs Saturday. Mike Billingham took the Derby upsetter through five furlongs in 1:02 4-5. Trainer Don Combs said he was pleased.

The lineup includes: Dust Commander, My Dad George, Silent Screen, Native Royalty, Plenty Old, Naskra, Admiral's Shield, Oh Fudge, Robin's Bug, Stop Time, Buzkashi, Personality and High Echelon.

Lee Trevino Leads Golf Prize List

NEW YORK (AP) — Lee Trevino, the self-styled Merry Mexican, leads the pro golf tour money list for the seventh straight week, figures released Monday by the PGA Tournament Players Division showed. Trevino, one of the two double winners this year, has picked up $95,889 and played in 16 tournaments. The other double winner, Billy Casper, is fourth on the list with $69,483.

MVP — Jeff Helser, Teays Valley, winner of the 100, 220 and 440 dashes, was named the most valuable contestant at the All-County track meet held at Logan Elm.

Mustangs Rip Piketon Nine In Slugfest

Westfall ripped Piketon, 15-11, in a real slugfest Monday on the Mustangs diamond.

The Mustangs had built up a 12-2 lead going into the sixth inning when Piketon exploded for nine runs and almost pulled the game out of the fire.

Piketon jumped on top in the first inning with two runs but the Mustangs came back with five in their half to go out in front and they never were behind although the sixth gave them the shakes.

They added three more in the second, two in the third, two in the fifth and finished with three more in the sixth.

* * *

THE hitting barrage carried right down the line with Randy Alkire getting a triple and a single, Larry Harris had two singles and a homerun, Greg Bigam a homer and single, John Riddle a double and single and John Valone had a homerun and two singles.

John Clem added a double, Mike Sines a single and Steve Bailey to complete the hitting onslaught.

The Mustangs are scheduled for a district tournament game with River Valley tonight on the Westfall field.

Tiger Golfers Place Third

Hillsboro captured the golf championship in the South Central Ohio League Monday at Washington C. H. and Circleville gained third spot in the event.

Hillsboro won with a total of 332, Washington C. H. was second with 345, Circleville third 349, Wilmington fourth 351 and Greenfield had 365 for fifth.

Hern of Hillsboro was medalist putting together a 37-36 for 73 and honors.

Greg Heiskell paced the Tigers with 40-38-78. Mike vaughan had 47-38-85, Mark Frericks fired 45-46-91 and Dave Grigg shot a 51-44-95.

Circleville will be at Stoney Creek at 10 a.m. today in the Sectional Tournament.

Malone College Wins MAC Golf Crown

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Malone College, with a 457 team score for 27 holes, captured its fourth straight id - Ohio Conference Golf title Monday, but failed to retain its District 22 NAIA crown.

Rio Grande won the NAIA tournament, held in conjunction with the MOC event, with a 450.

Other team scores Defiance 466, Ohio Northern 466, Bluffton 468, Cedarville 480, Wilmington 484, Findlay 486.

Louisville Beats Toledo Mud Hens

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gary Wagner scattered three hits in hurling Louisville to a 2-0 International League baseball victory Monday night over Toledo.

The victory came on the heels of Wagner's one-hit 4-1 victory over Buffalo last week and evened his record at 2-2.

Don Lock's second homer of the season contributed to the Colonel's scoring.

In the only other IL game Monday, Rochester outslugged Richmond 9-7.

Tigers Edge Hillsboro In Crucial SCOL Battle

Circleville edged up another step on the ladder leading to the South Central Ohio League crown nipping Hillsboro 5-4 Monday on the Tigers' home grounds.

The Red and Black were sailing along with what appeared to be a comfortable 5-0 lead going into the sixth inning, but suddenly found themselves fighting for their lives.

The aroused Indians refused to say "Uncle" and made the adrenalin flow in the Tigers and fans alike before the conflict came to a fitting conclusion.

Bryce Brown went all the way for the Tigers and gained his sixth league win against no losses. He gave up five hits, struckout 13 and didn't walk a man.

* * *

BAILEY was on the mound for the Indians and went the route giving up seven hits, fanning six and issued two free passes.

Tom Bowers and Chris Long both contributed a double and a single to the Red and Black attack. Billy Thomas, Ty Ankrom and Brown had singles to complete the Tiger hitting.

Chris Long doubled down the left field line in the second, went to third on an infield out and scored on a ground ball by Doyle Kiser to put the Tigers out in front.

They added another marker in the fourth when Tom Bowers doubled and scored on Ty Ankrom's single.

In the fifth Glen Griebel walked, moved up on Mike Fuller's sacrifice and scored on a single by Brown. Thomas and Long followed with one baggers to put the Circleville nine out in front, 5-0.

Hillsboro got on the scoreboard in the sixth when a hit batsman, an error and a single accounted for two runs.

* * *

THE Indians opened the seventh with a bunt single and Don Jewett followed with a long homerun to bring the score to 5-4.

Brown was up to the task and retired the next three hitters to put the win in the Tigers record book.

Circleville is now 7-1 in league play and will be at Greenfield Wednesday and host Wilmington Saturday at 1 p.m.

NBA Expansion Draft Ends; Trading Already Under Way

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The trading began in the National Basketball Association almost before the league's fourth expansion draft in five years had ended.

More deals were in the offing today as the New York Knicks, newly crowned NBA champions, still wondered how they escaped Monday's selections by Buffalo, Portland and Cleveland without losing the key players.

The runnerup Los Angeles Lakers weren't so fortunate, however. The Lakers unexpectedly left rookie guard Dick Garrett, a starter, unprotected. Buffalo quickly grabbed him.

"I was really surprised to see him available," said Eddie Donovan, Buffalo's general manager. "He's a young player and I thought he had done well for the season and in the playoffs."

Buffalo also selected veteran Bailey Howell from the Boston Celtics. Howell was then dealt to Philadelphia for forward Bob Kauffman and a future draft choice or a player to be named later.

Another Boston veteran, Larry Siegfried, was one of the Portland's top picks and the Trail Blazers promptly traded him to San Diego for guard Jim Barnett.

The NBA conducted the draft in secret in the offices of Commissioner Walter Kennedy. The league refused to disclose the order of the selections but the first two choices of each expansion club were released and the remaining 27 picks later were made public in three groups of nine.

Buffalo, which had the first selection, apparently picked Garrett, followed by Ray Scott of Baltimore.

Portland, which selected second throughout while Buffalo and Cleveland rotated, chose Siegfried and LeRoy Ellis of Baltimore.

Cleveland's picks were Luther Rackley of Cincinnati and Walt Wesley of Chicago.

The Knicks, Lakers, Boston, Chicago and San Diego each lost three players, the other established clubs two apiece.

Buffalo appears to have the makings of a fine backcourt. In addition to Garrett, the Braves have Mike Davis, another rookie obtained earlier in a trade from Baltimore, along with Herm Gilliam, Fred Crawford and Em Bryant.

Carol Mann Tops In Golf Winnings

CINCINNATI (AP) — Lanky Carol Mann continues to lead the money winners list of the 1970 LPGA tournament tour, it was announced today. She has earned $10,160.

Sandra Haynie is in second place with $9,708 earnings, followed by Marilyn Smith $7,924; Betsy Rawls $7,730, Kathy Whitworth $6,830; Sandra Palmer $6,386; Jo Ann Prentice $5,549; Judy Rankin $3,895; Mickey Wright $3,840 and Jane Blalock $3,710.

The LPGA tourists compete this weekend at St. Louis in a $20,000 tourney.

In the 1969 Rose Bowl game, Rex Kern became the third Ohio State player to win the player of the game award. The others were Fred Morrison in 1950 and Dave Leggett in 1955.

Pittsburgh Pirates Defeat Cincinnati Reds; Win 4-1

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates' Bob Veale became the first left hand pitcher to beat the Cincinnati Reds this year, setting the leaders of the National Leagues' western division down with three hits in a 4-1 defeat.

"I believe my stuff was as good as ever," said the 34-year-old southpaw. "It felt like five years ago. I made up my mind before the game to just go out there and throw.

"I just reared back and let go come hell or high water."

Veale retired 21 of the last 22 batters he faced and during one stretch after the third inning put out 18 straight batters and struck out nine.

It looked like a different story in the second inning when, with two out, Lee May singled to left field and rookie Hal McRae drilled a line drive off the wall in right for a double scoring May.

Veale bunted Mazeroski to third and scored on a sacrifice fly to Pete Rose in right by Freddie Patek. Rose's throw home to Johnny Bench was high and Mazeroski slid under the tag.

Patek was more trouble in the eighth when Wayne Granger went to the mound for McGlothlin who was lifted for a pinch hitter.

Patek walked and stole second. Stargell also walked. Bob Robertson singled to center scoring Patek.

"The guys behind you really start hitting when they know you're having a good night on the mound," said Veale. The Pirates failed to score for him in eight contests last year, he noted.

"We're coming out of a preseason slump. It's time this pitching staff started showing some stamina out there on the mound," Veale said.

Veale is now 2-3 and McGlothlin is 3-3.

Jim Merritt, 4-2, takes the mound against Steve Blass, 2-4, tonight in the second and final game of the series at Pittsburgh.

Atomic Speedway To Open Racing Season Saturday

It will be the start of the 15th season for the Chillicothe Stock Car Racing Association, but it will be almost the same as beginning all over again when Atomic Speedway opens the season Saturday night.

All of the old records in the different racing classes will go onto the books to stay permanently as Atomic expands to a longer track.

Holders of the old speed marks are expected to be on hand Saturday night when the super-modified and super-stock drivers begin the new era on the three-eights of a mile clay high banks.

Since the final race last year and continuing through the two-week delay in the reopening the track was extended from one third of a mile and was reshaped in the first two turns to form a true oval. The extensive project also entailed the erection of new bleacher sections, rewiring to provide additional lighting, moving of the pit area with a reduction of the pit parking area and installation of more guardrail and other safety features.

For the new season there have been some changes in the rules to satisfy driver objections and to meet new conditions resulting from the longer and faster track.

* * *

DOUBLE points on championship events will be eliminated to benefit Atomic's regular drivers in the special fund distribution and super-stock restrictions have been eased to produce more speed.

Atomic runs every Saturday night through the summer season and the schedule will include the usual super-specials — the Atomic 100, the Buckeye 100 and the Tri-State Invitational — which always attract big names in modified racing in the midwest.

The speedway is 12 miles south of Chillicothe and west of Route 23 at Alma.

Bill Russell To Speak At Rio Grande

Bill Russell, former player-coach of the Boston Celtics, will be the guest speaker at Rio Grande College's Annual All-Sports Banquet Sunday.

The banquet, honoring athletes in all fields of competition, will be held in the college dining hall at 6:30 p.m.

Tickets can be purchased at the Paul R. Lyne Physical Education Center. Reservations may be made by calling Lyne Center, 245-5353, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Russell is not only a gifted basketball player but also a fine speaker. He is the first Negro to hold a full time managerial position in the major league of any sport.

A number of awards will be presented to Rio Grande College athletes, including the most valuable player award in each sport, and the Newt Oliver Trophy, given to the Athlete of the Year.

Andretti Wrecks Car, But Is OK

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — If Mario Andretti continues to follow his 1969 script, he'll climb into his old Hawk-Ford and win the 500-mile race May 30 at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

A universal joint let go and Mario crashed his new German-built McNamara-Ford Monday as he rounded the northwest turn just before a thunderstorm broke. He bounced off the inner wall twice, loosing his left rear wheel, but was not hurt.

Andy Granatelli, owner of the car, said he planned to have it repaired before the opening of qualifications Saturday.

Last year Andretti crashed in an English Lotus-Ford when a hub carrier broke a few days before the start of qualifying. He suffered facial burns but drove his No. 2 car, the Hawk, not only to the 500 victory but to the U.S. Auto Club's national championship.

The Hawk, considerably remodeled, can be readied again quickly.

A twin McNamara car is being shipped from Germany but probably will not arrive for the first of two weekends of time trials.

CIRCLEVILLE CITY BOARD OF EDUCATION
520 South Court Street
Circleville, Ohio

NOTICE FOR SCHOOL BUS BIDS

Sealed bids will be received by Mary Ellen Rader, Clerk of the Board of Education of Circleville City School District at the office of the Board of Education, 520 South Court Street, Circleville, Ohio, until twelve o'clock noon (Eastern Daylight Saving Time) on Wednesday, May 20, 1970, for two bus chassis and two bus bodies for sixty-six passengers. Quotations will be made on the chassis and bodies to comply with specifications to be provided. These units are to be bid separately — truck dealers bidding the chassis and equipment and the body dealers bidding the bodies and equipment.

The bids will be received in an envelope marked "School Bus Chassis Bid" or "School Bus Body Bid" — not to be opened until Wednesday, May 20, 1970. All bids must be submitted in duplicate on forms provided. Specifications and bid forms will be available at the office of the Superintendent of Schools, 520 South Court Street. The Board of Education reserves the right to reject any or all bids or parts thereof. Price and quality will both be considered in determining the successful bidder. The delivery date shall be a consideration in awarding the contracts. The successful bidder will be notified after the bid is accepted.

Each bus (chassis or body) must meet or exceed the state minimum proposed standards of Ohio for 1969 and all minimum standards required by the National Safety Act and in effect at the time of this bid.

Strikes continued today at Case - Western Reserve University and Heidelberg College and one was threatened at the University of Akron.

At Case, striking students called upon the university to end its alleged complicity with the Indochina war through investment in companies that profit by the war.

A group calling itself the Steering Committee for Students threatened a strike at the University of Akron if officials don't meet a list of demands, which include an end to military research and greater student voice in the decision-making process.

A group of Kent State students, faculty and staff members announced Monday it is sending representatives nationwide to urge students not to let their campuses become another Kent State.

The free university or new university concept got a boost at two schools.

The faculty senate at Bowling State University voted to give students a choice of receiving letter grades or being graded on a "satisfactory - unsatisfactory" basis. The action is designed to relieve pressure on students who want to take part in supplementary classes on more "relevant" current issues.

Baldwin-Wallace College officials offered those enrolled in new university courses choices of continuing a normal academic schedule, withdrawing or taking a temporary grade with permission of appropriate faculty members.

Cleveland State University faculty approved a plan Monday in which undergraduate students may drop out of school to participate in peace activities and still get a class grade by fulfilling projects assigned by instructors.

Regular classroom work has been suspended at Lake Erie College in Painesville this week and replaced with discussions of the Southeast Asia situation.

Clark Family Seeks Home

Pickaway County Chapter of the Red Cross is seeking aid for Mrs. Charles Clark, whose home in Scioto Twp. was damaged by fire Monday morning. Mrs. Clark and her two daughters and son were rescued from the house by a passing motorist and a neighbor.

Mrs. Roliff Wolford, local Red Cross executive, reported that the family is in need of a house to rent until her home can be repaired. Living room and bedroom furniture is also being sought to replace that destroyed in the fire.

Also lost by the widow and her family were many personal items. Donations of clothing should be made in their name to the Red Cross office on Watt St. Mrs. Clark wears women's size 10 or 12, her son a boys' size 10 and size 6 or 7 in girls' clothing for her two daughters.

Rainstorm Causes One-Car Accident

A rain splashed windshield was the cause of a one-car injury accident at 9:20 p.m. Monday on Route 316 in Monroe Township.

Floyd I. Brigner, 56, of Williamsport, suffered a whiplash when his auto went into the ditch and struck a culvert.

He told Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Earl Kuhn water obliterated his windshield causing him to lose control of the vehicle.

Maryland Politicos Give Shriver Little Hope

By TOM STUCKEY
Associated Press Writer

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Sargent Shriver, former U.S. ambassador to France, director of the Peace Corps and a general in the war on poverty, is finding Maryland politics a tough nut to crack.

He has struck few responsive chords after a month of looking for encouragement to run for the Democratic nomination for governor.

"I still think he's going to run but frankly the way things have been going, I wouldn't blame him if he didn't," said an obviously depressed associate.

Shriver, married to Eunice Kennedy of the Kennedy clan, has failed to come up with a single political endorsement of note.

On the other hand, liberal Democrats have come out openly and urged Shriver not to run while announcing their support for the interim governor, Marvin Mandel. Neither Mandel nor Shriver has formally announced for the nomination but Mandel has used his nearly two decades in Democratic political circles to quietly close the doors on Shriver. Mandel was the powerful speaker of the Maryland House of Delegates and state party chairman when the legislature elected him to serve out the two years in the unexpired term of Spiro T. Agnew, when the latter became vice president.

The primary is Sept. 15.

Shriver has arranged private meetings with Democratic committees around the state and AFL-CIO leaders. Democratic leaders kept quiet and organized labor has said it told Shriver it was for Mandal.

"We know that Shriver would be a good person," said Charles Delal, president of the 300,000-member council in Maryland and the District of Columbia.

"He's been a liberal thinking man. But, at the same time, you don't hurt your friends."

Liberal Democrats with names known throughout the state have advised Shriver not to expect their backing.

Mandel, after a private session with Shriver in his office, was his usual noncommittal self.

"I think Mr. Shriver is a very personable man, I rather enjoyed the visit," Mandel said.

"We had a very interesting discussion about the political scene in Maryland. He told me he was testing the political scene and it would be some time before he would make any decision."

Asked if he thought Shriver's candidacy would badly split the party for the general election, Mandel said, "This is a decision that Shriver will have to make, and I don't think I should try to influence him."

When he first returned to Maryland after resigning as ambassador, Shriver replied to questions about state issues that he had been "only two and a half weeks off the boat."

Later, though, he retorted to remarks about his unfamiliarity with his native state that "I've been here the past 10 years and I haven't been walking around unconsciously."

He also said that while he had had no diplomatic experience when he became ambassador to France, nor been in many foreign countries before he headed the Peace Corps, "the record shows, I think, I've done a pretty good job."

The most likely Republican candidate at this point is C. Stanley Blair, who recently resigned as a top aide to Agnew, but who has not definitely announced he will enter the race.

OSU Student Groups Seek Way To Reopen University

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Leaders of groups which claim to represent 90 per cent of the Ohio State University student body agreed Monday night on steps aimed at getting the school reopened and keeping it that way.

The coalition, which agreed to call itself the Majority Alliance, planned to try to present the platform at a meeting today of the faculty council.

Ohio State was closed last week following student rioting. No plans have been announced for reopening it.

While the alliance's primary objective is to get Ohio State back in operation, student leaders attending Monday night's meeting agreed that the big job will be preventing future trouble.

"I think the most important thing is ending all violence," said Charlie Dankworth, chairman of the Tradition Board, made up of representatives of undergraduate student government.

"I think you're hitting the wrong thing by saying 'open the university'," he told the gathering. "You have to get at the problem of ending violence."

In a statement of purpose adopted at the meeting, the alliance said the majority of students on campus, who had no part in the disturbances, must accept part of the responsibility for the closing because of their apathy about what was going on.

The alliance said it was taking no position on the merits of demands presented to the administration by striking students or the administrations actions on the demands.

Its only concern, the alliance said, are "the rights of students to attend class and continue their education."

The group agreed on this platform:

—Campus problems can only be resolved by calm rational debate.

— Freedom of speech and right of dissent does not include throwing of bricks, lighting of fires and the blocking of classrooms.

— Majorities have rights as well as minorities.

—The majority of Ohio State University students are more interested in obtaining an education than engaging in political confrontations with the university administration.

—Historic apathy of this majority was partially responsible for the chaos that closed the university.

—It is time for the majority to get involved in all campus activities.

Teen Dance Set Saturday At YMCA

Saturday, from 8 to 11 p.m., the YMCA's Y-TAC will sponsor a teen dance featuring the Sidewalk Foundation.

According to Harold Hewitt, executive director of the Y, the dance will be for Pickaway County students 13 to 18 and in school.

The announcement said, the dance will be held in the gym, and that tables will be set up in the outside parking lot.

This will be the first of a series of patio dances that will be conducted throughout the summer by the local YMCA. there will be dances for members only, junior high dances, and senior high dances.

All dances will be chaperoned by not only YMCA staff, but interested parents and in some cases, local police.

In addition to the summer dances on Saturday, the YMCA Y-TAC (Y-Teen Age Center) is open on Fridays from 7 to 10 p.m. and daily from 3:30 to 5 p.m.

Visits by parents at any of our teen age functions, and suggestions on other types of youth programs are welcome.

Actor Cary Grant Denies Paternity

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actor Cary Grant, 66, denies he is the father of a girl born March 12 in Los Angeles to former writer Cynthia Bouron, 30.

The English-born master of light comedy filed his formal denial in Superior Court Monday. Miss Bouron's paternity action, filed on behalf of her daughter last week, asked that Grant be required to supply "reasonable support for Stephanie Andrea Grant."

The child's birth certificate bears Grant's name as father.

OEA To Conduct Probe Of School

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Education Association says its Professional Rights and Responsibilities Commission will conduct an investigation of conditions in the Springfield Local School District of Lucas County.

The probe follows a preliminary study conducted by a commission committee last month of conditions which have caused strife in the district.

Chairman Helen Kovach of Fairport Harbor said a panel of commission members will investigate teacher dissatisfaction with administrative practices, alienation of citizens from school policies and management techniques, and the inability of the school board to function effectively under present circumstances.

Loan Probe Is Requested

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP) — An investigation into state loans to private firms has been requested by State Rep. Donald Pease, D-75, Oberlin.

Pease said Monday that he had asked House Speaker Charles Kurfess to have the Finance Committe start an investigation next Monday.

State Treasurer John D. Herbert confirmed last week that the state had loaned nearly $9 million to King Resources, Inc., and Four Seasons, Inc., a firm under investigation by the federal government and the American Stock Exchange. He said there was nothing improper with the loans or the arrangements made to obtain them.

Pease said he has asked that if any "illegal procedures" were uncovered by an investigation, all information be turned over to the Franklin County prosecutor's office at Columbus.

House Democratic Leader John C. McDonald requested from Herbert Monday a list of all firms which have applied for loans from the state. He also requested a list of all persons or firms which have represented borrowers or prospective borrowers.
